Summer is an exciting time for all who love fresh, Maryland-grown food. To celebrate all of the delicious bounty that our farmers and watermen bring to us from our land and water, I am designating July 18-26 as Buy Local Week 2009. During this week, First Lady Katie O’Malley and I challenge all Marylanders to eat at least one locally grown, produced or harvested item each day.

This week-long celebration is the time to remember how great-tasting fruits and vegetables are when they come to us fresh from the farm. Katie and I will be trying some new dishes from Maryland farmers and chefs during a cook out at Government House on July 16 to kick-off the Buy Local Week challenge. This recipe book shares those recipes and four dozen more from local chefs and farmers.

Buying locally is a key to ensuring a smart, green and growing future for Maryland families. It fosters a healthy environment by preserving our beautiful farms and reducing our carbon footprint associated with transporting food. It supports and strengthens Maryland economies by keeping money in our communities. Because local food requires less time to transport, it is more nutrient-rich when it reaches our plates. It is reassuring to know where our food comes from and how our farmers grow it.

Join me and my family in taking the Buy Local Challenge. Visit one of our 90-plus farmers’ markets, ask for local products at the grocery story, and frequent restaurants that prepare foods from our farms. Once you meet our farmers and become familiar with their outstanding fruits, vegetables, meats and dairy products, we think that you’ll want to eat local food throughout the year. Visit www.MarylandsBest.net to find locally-grown products.

TRY IT WITH: Running Hare Vineyards; Cayuga White
Seared Day Boat Scallops with Heirloom Lockbriar Farms Tomato Marmalade and Local Vidalia Onion and Sweet Corn "Velvet"

INGREDIENTS:
10 Day Boat Scallops, adductors removed
2 cups large chopped heirloom tomatoes
1 sliced small Vidalia or Walla Walla onion
2 ears of sweet corn steamed and shocked in cold water to stop the cooking process
3 cups heavy cream
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup honey
¼ cup apple cider vinegar
1 oz butter
2 oz canola oil
Salt and pepper to taste

INSTRUCTIONS:
For the Tomato Marmalade:
1. Place the tomatoes, sugar, honey, apple cider vinegar, and a pinch of salt and pepper into a small saucepan over medium heat.
2. Once the mixture comes to a boil, turn down the heat so that it simmers (bubbles nicely around the edge of the pan) and stir occasionally to prevent excessive browning. Cook for about an hour or until the tomatoes are fully cooked and the vinegar, honey, and sugar have reduced to a sticky/syrupy consistency.
3. Reserve at room temperature until time to serve.

For the Vidalia onion & sweet corn "Velvet":
(This is a simple cream sauce; don’t be scared away by the “velvet” name used to describe its texture!)
1. Place a small sauté pan on medium high heat and melt the butter but do not brown it.
2. Add the sliced Vidalia onion and cook it until it has become opaque (slightly see-through) and tender.
3. Very carefully remove the corn from the cob with a knife and place it in the sauté pan with the onions. Make sure you use the back of the knife to scrape the remaining juices from the cob into the pan.
4. Add the cream and let it reduce until it coats the back of a spoon. The result will be a light and velvety cream sauce because it has thickened naturally and not with flour. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Assembly:
1. Place a sauté pan on high heat until it just starts to smoke a little bit then add the canola oil.
2. Dry the scallops with a paper towel and season them generously with salt and pepper on both sides. Place them in the sauté pan with the prettiest side down and reduce the heat to medium.
3. When you notice the scallops start browning around the bottom edges spin them about 180 degrees so that they brown evenly all over. When they are browned about a ¼ the way up the side flip them and turn the heat off.
4. Place two scallops on a small plate and spoon a little of the sauce on top. Make sure you get some corn and onions in there. Top the whole thing off with a teaspoon of tomato marmalade and serve.

TRY IT WITH: Cassinelli Vineyards and Winery Merlot
“Taste of Mexico” Garden Salsa

INGREDIENTS:
3 large beefsteak tomatoes, peeled and diced, save all seeds and juice in mixing bowl.
1 28oz can of peeled and diced tomatoes, with basil preferred.
1 large cucumber, cut ends, unpeeled and cut into small dice.
1 medium onion, peeled and small diced.
3 cobs fresh (white or yellow) corn on cob, shucked, corn cut off cob.
1 medium green pepper, seeded and small diced.
1 large clove fresh garlic, peeled and crushed, chopped finely.
1 Tbsp salt.
3 oz apple cider vinegar.
½ bunch fresh cilantro, washed completely, stemmed and rough chopped.
2 Tbsp chili powder.
2 oz lime juice concentrate can (use fresh if you prefer but with this it is not a lone taste, it’s for the total flavor so the expense is not necessary)

INSTRUCTIONS:
1. Prepare all above ingredients and combine in a large mixing bowl. It is best to prepare this recipe the day before and let sit in the refrigerator overnight to let the flavors combine and then taste before serving.
2. Re-season with salt if you think it needs it. It will taste like it will need salt if you taste it right after you prepare it.

Note: To peel tomatoes: Boil water. De-stem tomatoes and cut a little X in the bottom of the tomato. Place tomato in boiling water for 1 minute or until you notice skin peeling off. Remove tomato and place in a water and ice-filled bowl. Skin will peel off easily.

To make it hot:
4 tablespoons of chili powder
3 large jalapeno peppers.
Add 1 more tablespoon of chili powder.

1. Preheat oven to 450 degrees.
2. Place small oven-safe pan in oven while you preheat. Dip peppers in olive oil and carefully place dipped peppers in hot pan.
3. Rotate peppers in pan until medium roasted and soft. Remove pan from oven and turn off oven.
4. Get out a food processor and remove stem (not seeds) and place in processor and puree. Using rubber spatula, put puree into salsa.

Note: Smell of peppers might be rough on your nose, do not breath in puree or get oil from peppers on your fingers and then rub your nose, eyes, or lips. Wash hands quickly after doing all this so oils will be washed off.

ABOUT THIS RECIPE:
Chef – Thomas Winter
Producer – Nora Crist: Elioak Farm (Howard County)

TRY IT WITH: Serpent Ridge Vineyard; Seyval Blanc
INGREDIENTS:
Approximately 20 fresh grape leaves from Black Ankle or another Maryland vineyard
1 cup chèvre
from Maryland’s Cherry Glen
2 cups cooked brown rice
1/2 tsp minced rosemary from a Maryland farm
1/3 cup toasted pine nuts
Salt and pepper to taste
About 2 to 3 tbsp olive oil, if desired (plus more for brushing)

INSTRUCTIONS:
Bring a pot of water to boil. Add salt and the grape leaves one at a time. Turn off the water and let the grape leaves sit in the pot, covered, for 8 to 10 minutes. The best way to test if they are done is it to scoop out a leaf, tear off a corner, and test it. The leaf will be done when it is easy to chew. When the leaves are tender, drain them into a colander, and run cold water on top to cool them. Carefully remove the leaves one at a time from the colander and lay them out flat on a dry kitchen towel. Briefly press another towel on top of the grape leaves to dry them, then remove it and let the leaves air dry.

Meanwhile, make the filling. Mix together the goat cheese, rice, rosemary, and pine nuts. Taste and add salt and pepper. If the filling seems a bit dry, add a few splashes of olive oil and mix again.

Lay a grape leaf with the vein side up on a cutting board and remove the stem from below the leaf (do not remove the central vein of the leaf itself). Add about 1 tablespoon of the filling towards the bottom of the leaf. Fold up the bottom and the sides and then tuck down the top. Repeat this process until you have used all your leaves and filling. Brush both sides of each grape leaf with olive oil.

Heat the grill to medium-high heat. Arrange the stuffed grape leaves on the grill with the seam side down and cook until they are slightly charred, 2 to 3 minutes. Turn and cook on the other side. Serve whole or sliced diagonally in half.

Notes:
– It is best to use grape leaves that are on the vines now, before they get too large and tough. And be sure to use leaves that are organic, or cut them before they have been sprayed. If you would like to make this recipe in advance, you can do everything but grill the grape leaves ahead of time. Pop them on the grill just before you are ready to serve them.
– For serving, these appetizers just need a serving plate. They are finger food. Ideally they would be grilled or warmed just before serving, but they could also be eaten at room temperature.
– They are excellent paired with Black Ankle’s 2007 Bedlam or their 2006 Syrah.

Maryland Crab, Blueberry, Lemon-Cucumber, and Sugar Snap Pea Salad with Honey-Lavender Vinaigrette

INGREDIENTS:
1 lb Maryland crab meat preferably jumbo lump
¼ lb local blueberries
3 lemon cucumbers or 2 regular cucumbers large diced
1 cup sugar snap peas
1 oz lavender seeds
1/3 cup apple cider vinegar
3 tsp honey
1 ¼ cups vegetable oil
Salt and pepper to taste

INSTRUCTIONS:
For the Peas:
1. Place a pot of water on high heat. Salt the water so that it is salty like the sea. Don’t worry only a minuscule amount will actually flavor the vegetables. Have a bowl with ice water handy to shock the vegetables once they are cooked.
2. Once the water is at a rolling boil add the peas and cook for approximately a minute and a half or until bright green and just barely cooked. (This is a salad so we want it to retain some crispness.) Pull the peas out of the pot with tongs and place into the ice water until cool. Remove and dry with a towel
3. Reserve in the refrigerator until ready to serve

For the Lavender Vinegar:
1. Place the lavender seeds and vinegar in a small saucepan and bring to a boil. Once it boils turn off the heat and allow the seeds to steep in the vinegar for one hour. Strain to remove the seeds and refrigerate until cool.

For the Honey Lavender Vinaigrette:
1. Place your newly made lavender vinegar in a blender with the honey and turn on low.
2. Slowly stream in the vegetable oil until all is well-combined and season with salt and pepper. At this point the dressing may be a little tart so add some more local honey at your discretion.

Assembly:
1. Place all the blueberries, peas, and cucumber in a mixing bowl.
2. Add just enough dressing to coat the vegetables and then add the crab meat.
3. Gently fold the crab meat into the salad being careful not to break it and then served on chilled plates to your guests.

with Goat Gouda and Eggplant Spread

Eggplant Spread – Yields 4 Cups
2 medium eggplants, about 1 lb each
¼ cup olive oil
½ cup minced onions
1 medium heirloom tomato, peeled, seeded and chopped
3 tbsp fresh lemon juice
8 – 10 pitted black Kalamata oil – cured olives and chop
3 tbsp chopped flat-leaf parsley

Preheat oven to 450. Prick eggplants in a few places and place in shallow baking pan lined with aluminum foil. Bake about 40 minutes or until soft. Cool. Remove stems, and peel eggplants, scraping any flesh from skin. Remove excess seed, discard skin and chop eggplant. Add chopped tomato and olives. Season with lemon juice, salt, pepper and parsley. Mix thoroughly. Refrigerate, preferably overnight. Can also be served as appetizer with crusty bread or cracker.

Slider Mixture – 6 Servings
1 lb ground chevon
1 lb chorizo
½ tsp fresh ground black pepper
½ tsp fresh ground sea salt
¼ cup olive oil
12 slices of goat cheese gouda
12 buns (3 inch split in half, lightly toasted)
3 tbsp butter (optional)

Prepare grill (Goat meat will lose moisture and can toughen quickly due to low fat content if it is exposed to high heat.) Grill 5 – 8 inches from source of heat. Mix meat thoroughly – handle lightly, overworking the meat will make it tough. Roll into 12 small balls. Mash down the balled ground meat with a heavy spatula or bacon weight to form patties approximately 3 inch wide and about 3/8 thick. Brush patties with olive oil and season with fresh ground salt and pepper or insert thumb print and add ¼ tsp of butter, cover and season with salt and pepper. Cook about two minutes per side. Place cheese on burger for 1 minute to melt. Serve on toasted roll and garnish with eggplant spread.

INGREDIENTS:

- 4-7oz. strip steak (preferably local grass-fed beef)
- 1 pt Lockbriar Farms red or yellow raspberries
- 1 bunch scallions (thinly sliced on a bias)
- 3 tsp shallots finely chopped
- 3 ears corn steamed and cut off the cob
- 1 cup apple cider vinegar
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup sour cream
- ¼ cup horseradish
- 1 tsp lemon juice (fresh squeezed if possible)
- ½ cup canola oil
- 1 pt Lockbriar Farms red or yellow raspberries
- 3 tsp shallots finely chopped
- ¼ cup horseradish
- 1 tsp lemon juice (fresh squeezed if possible)
- 2 oz sugar
- 3 tsp Water
- sugar, salt, and pepper (fresh cracked for this recipe)

INSTRUCTIONS:

For the Fingerling Potato Salad:
1. Place the fingerling potatoes in a pot of cold water big enough so that the water covers the potatoes completely. Place the pot on a burner at high heat.
2. Salt the water heavily and let it come to a boil. Once the water comes to a boil let them boil for three minutes and then remove from the heat.
3. Allow the water to cool down for about 15 minutes and then remove by pouring the potatoes into a colander.
4. While still warm use a fork or large spoon to break the potatoes into pieces small enough to be eaten in one bite. Place the mayo, sour cream, horseradish, and lemon juice in a bowl large enough to hold the potatoes. Mix thoroughly.
5. Now you can add the warm potatoes and corn to the sauce and finish with lightly tossing in the scallions. Keep warm until ready to serve. (Tip: you can make the salad a day ahead and refrigerate it. Once you need it just gently warm it in a skillet over medium-low heat.)

For the Agrodulce Sauce (Agrodulce is an Italian Sweet and Sour Sauce):
1. Place ½ the canola oil in a medium sauté pan over medium-high heat.
2. Once the oil is hot but not smoking add the shallots and cook them until they are see-through (1-2 minutes).
3. Add the vinegar and 1 pint of raspberries and allow the vinegar to reduce by half.
4. Now add the sugar and mix gently breaking up the raspberries and making sure that the sugar dissolves.
5. Refresh this “gastrique” as we call it, with the water, and season to taste with salt and plenty of fresh cracked black pepper. The more the merrier!

Assembly:
1. Pre-heat your grill on high and remove the steaks from the refrigerator (it’s always better to grill meat that isn’t ice cold).
2. Season both sides of the steaks generously with salt and pepper and then rub with canola oil. Place on the grill all facing the same direction.
3. Grill for three minutes and then turn each steak 45 degrees (this is to get those pretty marks. If you don’t care about the hatch marks forget about the 45 degree thing all-together).
4. After 3 more minutes flip the steaks and repeat step 3 for the second side as well.
5. When the steak is your preferred doneness remove it from the grill and let it rest for 4-5 minutes. This will make sure your steak is nice and juicy instead of dry.
6. Place the warm potato salad on each plate. Serve the steak atop the salad with a tiny bit of the Agrodulce sauce and some fresh scallions to garnish.

Citrus Salad Over Apple Carpaccio

INGREDIENTS:
- 2 Asian pears
- 4 blood oranges
- 4 navel oranges
- 1 large jicama
- 5 Granny Smith apples
- 1 lemon
- 1 lime
- 12 oz guava nectar
- 3 oz honey
- 2 oz fresh orange juice
- 12 oz Sprite (Soda)

INSTRUCTIONS:

Citrus Vinaigrette
1. Remove the rind from half the lemon, half the lime and combine in a blender with one naval orange (rind on), cut into sections. Add 2 oz of fresh orange juice and blend. Sweeten to taste with the honey and strain the mixture (discarding the pulp).
2. Reduce the guava nectar over medium heat by half.
3. Quarter the Asian pears, remove seeds and cut again length wise into three even sections. In total you should have 12 sections which should be placed directly into the Sprite.
4. Remove the rind of the blood oranges and remaining navel oranges. Cut out each section with a paring knife. You will need to have 3 sections per salad of each blood and navel orange.
5. Slice the apples and the peeled jicama using a slicer or mandolin into very thin slices. For each salad reserve the four largest apple slices to make the Carpaccio.
6. Place the large apple slices directly into Sprite and allow to soak for several minutes. Cut all remaining apple and jicama into fine julienne strips.
7. Toss the julienne of jicama and apple in the citrus vinaigrette and set aside.
8. To plate salad, place four apple slices two by two, creating a base that forms a square.
9. Next place three slices of Asian pear atop the Carpaccio to create a three point fan. Place one orange segment on top of the pear slice and then one blood orange segment between each pear segment creating a star as the base of the salad.
10. Finish the salad by adding 1.5 oz of the citrus slaw and drizzle with the guava reduction. Keep chilled and serve.

This recipe can also be assembled into 1 bite salads quite nicely.
